“ My big brother. I miss you but I know you are cancer free and have no pain. My heart is heavy with sorrow. Thoughts and prayers for the family. He was a dear brother, father friend ,uncle, grandpa and a old Papa. I feel so blessed to have a wonderful man in my life. You were a kind, caring, giving and loved your family so much. Mush love we had for each other and we enjoyed playing music and family was very important to you. We love you Till we meet again.

“ I wish I could have seen the gates of Heaven open up for you, I know heaven gained one heck of a man. A piece of my heart went to heaven the day you left us. I love you Papa and will always make sure your legacy lives on.

“ I can remember when Dan and I first started dating. We would go over to visit and Ed would start a story right in the middle and I would struggle to understand him. I eventually learned to understand him and to jump into a story wherever he began. Dan will also jump into a story midway and I will say “What are you talking about Ed” I love how much Dan is like his dad. His silly sense of humor and his love for tormenting the grandkids.
