Everyone in our little town loved her from the very start. Tricia was a wonderful wife and devoted mother. She brightened rooms and lifted spirits. Tricia was never judgmental and never met a stranger. She was always very good at making people feel very special. Being the youngest of five girls, she was a product of her environment. Always dancing and singing her way into everyone's hearts. Her magnetic smile and exuberant spirit filled the room, air, and environment around her. You, Tricia will forever be in our hearts.

“ I watched Josh and his sister beginning when he was 2 and his sister was 4. Josh grew up with my middle son who was the same age. They remained friends through school. Josh became mine and so did his bride. First time I met her was at a hospital in Norman where we all were visiting mutual friends that just had a new baby. There was the sweetest young lady running around waiting on everybody there. Her big smile never became weak and her pleasant personality was over the top I assumed it was a hospital employee. As I was walking out to leave, Josh come up behind me and said, hey Net, did you meet my girlfriend and I said no. He said, let me get her real quick before you go. You've got to meet her. Well you already know who was on his arm when he walked back. I Sid, oh, I met her but didn't know she was your girlfriend. I looked straight at her and said, girl you didn't waste anytime about getting a job once you made it to Oklahoma. They both looked at me confused and said, a job? I said, yes, I didn't know you was working here. Didn't you just get back to Oklahoma yesterday? They both started laughing and told me she wasn't employed but was just trying to be helpful. I gave my approval right there for her to be my boys wife. She became my girl. She loved me!! I would've walked miles to get a Big special hug from her. She became Stratford's girl, our sweetheart . Ive never known a more perfect young person. There was nothing she couldn't do well. She put her heart in everything she did.

“ Tricia was so kind hearted and so upbringing the few times I actually met her! She always talked about Jesus to anyone, she was truly amazing. Now she may rest in piece, and watch over her beautiful family. My prayers and condolences are with the family. Be strong, God is amazing!
