“ One precious and funny memory of Dawnyce is when my mother and dad (Jim and LaVerne Shelly) were married. Barney was a friend of my dad and of course mother and Dawnyce were family. Barney and Dawnyce went with mother and daddy when they were married and they were the only ones with them besides the preacher and his wife. When the preacher started the ceremony he asked Barney and Dawnyce if they would like to stand up with mother and daddy? Dawnyce didn't understand they were to be witnesses. She thought he meant would they like to get married! Dawnyce said "no! I don't even know him and I don't like him"! Well, uncle Barney fell in love with her and it took 3 long years but he won her over. They married and he was the love of her life! She lost him too early but she always said no ne could ever measure up to him. She loved him so very much! What a fabulous example our family had with Barney and Dawnyce and Jim and LaVerne. The kind of marriages that are full of love and fun!
