“ Christine, I am so sorry for your loss. I am unable to attend the service today due to other employees being out. From the first time I met Dewey, years ago, I liked him. He had that charisma about him. I enjoyed talking with Dewey.(I liked his accent). Most of all, I enjoyed the visits I had with him, when I dropped off his medication. Delivering medication is not a part of my job. It is what I do on my own time. Because I sincerely care about my friends, our patients, and our tribal people. I'm really gonna miss Dewey, he would always tell me, Thanks Hon, when I was leaving, he would hardley ever call me Gayle. I am thinking of you and will be praying for you. Love You. Gayle Clark

“ To the Family of Donald Ray Emerson:

*I am very sorry about the loss of your loved one, Donald. I wanted to share a scripture or two that has given me such comfort when I needed it so much and I hope it will for your as well. The Bible shows that God did not intend for humans to suffer, grow old or die. (Romans 5:12) He also promises to soon restore the earth and humans to his original purpose for the. He will then resurrect our loved ones on to a cleansed paradise earth where we can welcome them back. (John 5:28-29 & Psalms 37:10-11 & 29). Just imagine the beautiful photographs he will be able to take. Please visit jw.org to find satisfying answers from the bible free of charge. I truly am sorry for your loss. Sincerely,
Kristy*
