

Dwight "Doc" Immohotichey

January 6, 1950 - September 7, 2025

Doc Immohotichey, husband, father, grandfather, and great-grandfather passed away on September 7, 2025 at the age of 75.

Born on January 6, 1950, Doc was a man of faith, talent and resilience. He proudly served in the United States Air Force, carrying the discipline and dedication of his service into many areas of his life. He was an outstanding athlete, best known for his exceptional basketball and softball career. A true all around competitor, he was named MVP multiple times and gained a reputation as one of the best in the game. Doc was also known for his sense of humor and the sayings he left behind. Among his family's favorites were, "They are all dancing fools" and "They are like fish and turtles because anytime they see water they are in it." To that mom would lovingly reply, "That's what happens when you are raised on the banks of the Blue River." Whether on the field or in his life, Doc was determined, skilled, and always left an impression.

He was preceded in death by his parents: Jonas and Josie Immohotichey. His siblings: Gwen Downing and husband Josh, Paul Imotichey, Yvonne Alberson and husband Dugan, Jerry Imotichey and wife Janis; brother in law, Don Tims.

He is survived by his wife, Peggy Immohotichey of the home, and his children, Kwiana Immohotichey of Oklahoma City, Sarai Immohotichey of Oklahoma

City and Julie Smith and husband Tarik of Sacramento, his brother Bob Imotichey and wife Johnie of Fillmore and sister Shirley Tims of Purcell; sister-in-law Betsy Imotichey of Coleman.

His legacy continues through his grandchildren – Jace Tyson, Kendall Howell, Kywin Immohotichey, Charles Augmon Sr, Chelsea Augmon, Alyssa Smith, Faith Smith. Great grandchildren – Eliana Tyson, Lyric Watson, Charles Augmon Jr, Chase Augmon, Blaze James, Jahloni Smith.
