“ Grandma was always a constant in my life. As a child, she always made sure that I was able to go to church. She also would go for walks with me in the evenings after supper on their 90 acre property. We would hunt for arrowheads, something that I have continued to do throughout my life. I learned to have faith in God from her. She loved Jesus and singing worship and praise to him. When I would get into trouble, she would get after me with a switch, which usually resulted in me climbing as high in a tree as I could. She would say "You have to come down sometime." I love you Grandma.
