“ My heart is heavy for the loss of my very favorite teacher, the woman who instilled in me an appreciation for articulation, proper grammar, pronunciation and a true love of the written word. She introduced me to grand story telling and the great Mark Twain both of which changed my life forever. I never once saw her without her signature grace and kindness, a type of elegance that few others possess. I will miss her forever, yet I know that she has passed to a far more glorious place to share with with them her gifts. She and her husband, Bon, will never be forgotten by any of the students whose lives they touched.

“ When I was in middle school, I spent about as much time at Mr. and Mrs. Impson's house as I did my own. I loved them like family. I wasn't aware of the service or I would have attended. I only heard about Mrs. Impson's passing today, and my heart is very heavy. She was a beautiful, kind, dear soul. My love goes out to the family, and my deepest condolences. Until we meet again, Mrs. I. xo

“ Jeanetta, Brian, and Bruce,

I was saddened today to hear that your Mother had passed away last week. I will always remember her at the piano having us sing in grade school. She had a beautiful and kind voice and a smile that made you enjoy being around her. I will keep all of you and your families in my prayers during this difficult time.

“ I remember Bon calling Mrs. Impson "Helen Sue" back when both of them were my teachers in junior high. He obviously thought she was the most beautiful girl in the world. Helen taught me so much about music, and she lived "how to be a lady" each day. She was a delight, and I'm so grateful she was part of my life. My sympathies to Jeanetta, Brian and Bruce and the grandchildren and great-grandchildren who are losing such a lovely lady.
