“ I had the pleasure of meeting Joe last year in his home we spent many hours talking of family and past times he spent driving the country. He told stories of Brian and how proud he was of his driving abilities mostly “being able to back up those big trucks better than a 50year old when he was 12.” And many more tails that I’d never believe if Joe would not have shared them. What a blessing that weekend was. He said chances are if I hear a story that is hard to believe it is true.... Because they did some crazy things!! Joe was a great guy who loved his family and wanted peace and good things for everyone.
