“ Lane, you were always smiling and giggling when around us. Always on Colts heels when at our house. i smile when i think of you. and i will always smile when i think of you and i will always see that little boy saying Aunt Sharla can i go with Colt in the yard, can i do this with Colt, can i? and the shoe laces flappin as you were running trying to find Colt in the yard wherever he was and yall would play in the yard tearing stuff up all over the yard. it was always Aunt Sharla Can i? in my house we would always say that if a kid was hungry or thirsty to just go get it, you would always ask first..... and then grin really big when i would pat your head and say yes. your shoes were never tied, you were always smiling.... always giggling and this is what i will always remember.... Lane, take care of that babe and keep her safe, watch over her and try and ease the pain of your siblings, they need to know that your leaving was not their fault. It was your time, give them a sign some how that only you and them knew about so they know you are ok now... sleep tight and rest now... keep smiling and always giggle!!! Aunt Sharla said you can!! <3
