“ My uncle Larry was a nice man. He accepted me as I was. His wife, Ginny, was the nicest woman I had ever met. They were lovely people. I sure wish that I could've seen my uncle before he died. In honor of his memory, I created an image of a vision I have; I have a dream of tower gardens, tiny homes, a public library, orchards, a pond, trails, and little libraries - all in one area! 😊❤️🏠🌿🌳🏡🔑

🌍 #thesketchbookproject The idea is to create affordable/free housing for homeless people and low-income earners as well as housing for people who are tired of having large homes to maintain. This environment is for people who want to connect to nature and to each other, while down-sizing and aiming to live a minimalist lifestyle. The houses will have solar panels somewhere (i.e. on the roofs/lawn). My uncle was a computer programmer; a smart man. His dad ran a construction business before handing it over to my grandfather. Somehow, I think that innovation was important to my uncle even though I didn't know him that well. I like to think that he'd smile at this concept that I drew. I love you uncle Larry. I miss you.

*Love,

“ We send our love and condolences to Aunt Ginny, Angie and Lisa, Grandma Virginia, Uncle Dave and my Mom Carol and all of our wonderful family... We love you all so much! We are deeply sad for your loss. You are all in our prayers. May Gods Grace be with you.

Uncle Larry has a very special place in all of our hearts. He has given to us many precious memories throughout the years. He showed us all unconditional love and how we need to treat each other, take care of each other, especially our families. He was compassionate, giving and welcoming always. He loved our children, and loved to spend time with them just observing their silliness and listening to them carry on. We miss him dearly.

I believe with all my heart that he was sent here to Oregon as as an example for us all of the type of persons we should try to be. Uncle Larry is remembered by many as a man with a beautiful heart. He was a faithful servant of God and so much more to all of us.

I know he is with our Heavenly Father who with there are no endings, only endless beginnings.

Love be with you <3
