“ There are so many, so where do I begin? Uncle Les was always a strong man, creative, funny, and loved everyone unconditionally even when they were doing wrong. He would've given you the shirt off his back if you asked him. I would describe him as a man with a full heart. Making light Of this loss in finding the funny which is what he would've done. Martin family reunion July 4 I don't know how old I was if I had to venture guess I'd say my brother and I were 12 and 10. Spent a full day of riding on an air tube on the boat and noodling to have Arnette stop us halfway to the shore because he thought he could swim back. Once we got to the shore mind you it's midday people are hurting from the day before lol A bunch of us kids are talking about fireworks because we had to go get more than what we already had so he loaded us up and took us there and he bought at the time I could've sworn it was a 3 foot wide roll by 20 foot role of black cats Them things popped for every bit of 20 minutes lol. The whole time he laughed This is the same day and night that Mama Char and my mother decided they were gonna go find some people in some trees later on that night. I could add onto this story, but I won't Bobby and Jon y'all know what y'all did lol Guess where I'm heading with this is the memory of us altogether was a memory he Would've Wanted shared Because that was uncle les to a T always trying to bring people together. I love you. I miss you. I wish I could've seen you one last time, but I will when I meet you in heaven.
