“ Grandma...

I miss you so much!!!! I wish that you were still here. I have so much that I have missed sharing with you since you have gone away. I know that you will be with me always and forever though. I still catch myself wanting to call you to share the good news but then I come back to reality and know that is no longer possible. We are taking care of grandpa and he seems to be doing better now know that you are no longer in any pain. This football season will not be the same without you. But I will make sure and do enough cheering for you too!!!! I love you and miss you so much!!!! Love your granddaughter...Keri
