“ This isn't just about RJ but about all my uncles and family. All the family get togethers over all those years we cousins all learned to that take the onerymness and give it back. We all came by it naturally. I also learned that Family is the most important thing. I never knew a time that one of them needed help that the others weren't there to help. They all had talents and the biggest one was helping.. His smile and humor will truly be missed
