“ I remember standing on the front porch of Bekka's house when we were kids, and she taught me how to properly utilize the mouth piece of my trumpet. I have always associated the talent I found with that instrument with Bekka. I remember spending a lot of time watching her practice spinning those flags, and she was so incredible with them. Bekka introduced me to several hard rock bands, and inspired me to expand my taste in music. We may have grown up and went our separate ways, but Bekka will always hold a special place in my heart, because she always had a way of lighting up my day. I can even remember the way she used to hug me, and how she was stern with me, but also very loving. My deepest condolences to her family. May God ease the hearts and minds of Bekka's entire family during this time of grief. Blessed are those who mourn, for they will be comforted.
