I worked with Capt Bob Noble at Joseph Harp in the 80's. He was one of my favorite people there.

“ Grandpa Bob, you are so terribly missed. Myself, Brennan and Ellis are devastated. I so badly want to be able to sit around the kitchen table and listen to you tell just one more story. My childhood would not have been the same without you walking me around the pastures, feeding chickens, having a cow named after me, teaching me to drive the lawn mower, golf cart, and letting me practice driving your truck before I even got my permit. You gave me such amazing advice as a teenager and adult and I will forever miss you showering my babies with love everytime we came to stay with you. You didn't even get upset when they tried to burn the house down by throwing paper in the gas heater in the back room. Your patience always gave me something to aspire towards. I know that your obituary says one great-granchild, but you have 7 more that miss you and love you. Brennan, Ellis, Rhyan, Savannah, Vince, Reznor, and Maddox all have special places in their hearts for you. The world will never be the same without you. You are so very missed and loved.

“ Grandpa Bob,

You are so dearly missed. I'll always cherish how much you loved us grandkids, and showed us honor, respect and accountability. I miss those early mornings staying on your farm waking up to join you in gathering the chicken eggs and feeding the cows. You were always goofing off with us and I love you dearly for that. One of my fondest memories is when you'd cart us around the farm in your Nissan and take your hands off the wheel like a magic trick showing you could still steer. We didn't know at the time you'd be using your knees to stabilize the wheel. It was so awesome and funny, just like you were. Many holidays and weekend getaways spent at the farm, laying in front the wood burning stove, playing checkers on grandma's oversized checker board. As we grew up, I began to cherish our conversations out in the sunroom, over-looking the farm and the going-ons with the animals. I always adored your wisdom and your stories. Thank you for being such a kind, wonderful grandpa to me, and for loving my grandma as much as you did. If only more men were like you. I love and miss you dearly.

*All my love,
Craig*

“ Mr. Noble was the sweetest man, he had the kindest soul and I am so glad that I got to be apart of his life and all of the moments spent with him will be some of my favorite memories. Autumn Mae sure did love showing off her dance moves and making Mr. Noble smile and laugh. He always was in a good mood, he lit up any room he was in and I loved hearing him talk about some of the most random things. We love him forever and always. We will sure miss him at the pharmacy.

Love Nat, Autumn, and James.

He loved ya'll too. He enjoyed watching Piper and Autumn dancing. He would call Piper (Pipper) and Autumn (Whitey)(cause of her hair being so blonde) lol. He would talk about them and do his little giggle. And say "Those girls are going to be a handful when they get older". Also, know he loved you Nat. He was proud of you for graduating college and not giving up. James (goofball is what Mr Noble would call him) he would " that boy, that boy".

There was never a better man to learn from! Respected and admired by too many to count. He stood up for those who were in the right regardless of who it was against. He gave direction and would even walk with you in troubled times! You sir will be missed, rest easy now

“ Thank you Mr Noble for allowing me to be a part of your life! And Mrs Nobles' . I enjoyed spending time with you. We had many laughs (over some of the stuff you done). Ate many breakfast meals at Boomarang, lunches at Punkins and The Grille (these are his favorite places to eat). Gone on many trips to the doctors. Sitting on the bench in front of the pharmacy at Walmart. I will miss our daily talks on the phone (the answering machine waiting on you to make it to the phone lol). Or us argueing about me calling you "Mr Noble" and you wanting me to call you "Bob". You touched several people's lives sitting on the benches at Walmart. Sitting there talking with them while you waited for me to go to lunch. I will miss you, but knew that you were tired and ready to go walk on streets of gold. I know in spirit that you and Mrs Noble is reunited where you longed to be by her side for long. You will forever be Mr. Noble to me. I love you. Your Loopy (aka Libby)
Loopy is what Mr Noble would call me instead of Libby
