“ We first met Shannon through work when she started doing our taxes several years ago. We shared stories, laughs and got to know a bit about each other's lives. Our conversations made tax time more bearable. She was an incredibly kind person and we found a lot of common ground personally. Little did we know that our annual call to schedule taxes this year would be to find out that Shannon was no longer with us. We are devastated for her family who she loved immensely and talked about quite a bit when we were in her office. Few people make such a lasting impression on me personally but Shannon was definitely a kindred spirit. Such a lovely person whose loss will be deeply felt by those who knew her. Sending much love to her family and friends.
